

Accommodations Guide: Students

WHAT IS THE INTERACTIVE ACCOMMODATIONS PROCESS?

The Interactive Accommodations Process is a conversation between a student with a disability and Accessibility Services staff to determine reasonable accommodations for a student's self-disclosed disability.

WHY WOULD A STUDENT WITH A DISABILITY PARTICIPATE IN THE INTERACTIVE ACCOMMODATIONS PROCESS?

By participating in the Interactive Accommodations Process, a student with a disability actively explores and requests potential support, such as accommodations, to have an equitable educational experience.

ARE ACCOMMODATIONS ONLY AVAILABLE FOR STUDENTS WITH A DOCUMENTED DISABILITY?

Documentation is not required to apply for accommodations; however, it may be needed at a later date. Visit Accessibility Services within the Learning Center to discuss available options.

IS THIS A CONFIDENTIAL PROCESS?

Yes. When a request for accommodations is approved, the appropriate faculty members will be notified of the accommodations, but they will not be notified of the disabilities unless requested by the student.

Use the QR code or website address below to learn how to apply for accommodations and to get more information about the Interactive Accommodations Process.

LEARNING CENTER AND ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES

Morrison Room L106
accessibility_services@mcad.edu
lc.mcad.edu